Cancer Achievement Award 2014
Medical Oncology Group of Australia • Novartis Oncology

Call for Nominations

The Medical Oncology Group of Australia (MOGA) and Novartis Oncology are pleased to announce the 2014 Cancer Achievement Award recognising outstanding Australian contributions to cancer research and control.

The Cancer Achievement Award formally recognises the contributions made by scientists, clinicians and other health care professionals to the scientific study of cancer in Australia.

Since 1999 this Award has been presented to 15 leaders in the field of Australian Oncology. The recipient of the 2013 Award was Professor Frances Boyle AM, Director of the Patricia Ritchie Centre for Cancer Care and Research, The Mater in Sydney; Professor of Medical Oncology at the Sydney Medical School where she is also Medical Director of the Pam McLean Communications Centre.

The successful applicant will be presented with the award at the MOGA Annual Scientific Meeting in Sydney on Friday 8 August 2014 at which he/she will deliver a formal address on their area of professional interest.

Nominations may be made by any individual. Each nomination should include:

- Biographical outline of the nominee (Australian permanent resident or Citizen)
- A list of the nominee's major relevant publications
- An explanation of the nominee's work in the area of cancer control or research
- An evaluation of the accomplishments of the nominee
- Letters of reference from two individuals from outside the nominees' institution containing a critical appraisal of the nominee's work.

Closing date for applications: Friday 14 March 2014 - Extended to 11 April 2014!

Applications will be assessed by the MOGA Awards Committee and have to be sent to:
